5. Household Effects: The Baltimore dispatch agent has advised that he expects to receive from the adjuster a list of individuals whose household effects are aboard the U. S. Lines ship "American Sioux." The ship ran aground during the latter part of 1978 and, being a feeder ship operating in the South Pacific, the dispatch agent had been unable to obtain a confirmed list of those whose household effects are involved. To date, the cargo has not been removed and its condition is unknown. To our knowledge, through information from cables to the EA Division, there are three Agency employees whose household effects are aboard the ship; however, no determination regarding settlement of claims can be made until the condition of the cargo is known.
